The United Way needs your support

The 18th annual United Way of Hancock County Campaign is underway with contributions being solicited for the 14 agencies supported by the agency.

Letters are being sent to contributors of previous years, personal visits are being made by volunteers of the United Way.

The 1981 campaign chairman is Pat Harville, as many of you already know. The goal of $40,000 is very realistic and can be reached with the help of everyone.

There are very fine agencies supported by the United Way of Hancock County.

The agencies supported are the Hancock County Emergency Relief, Gulf Coast Mental Health, Mississippi Epilepsy, Inc., Hancock Chapter of the American Red Cross, Hancock County Blood Bank, Senior Citizen Programs, Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), Salvation Army, Goodwill Industries, U.S.O. (worldwide), Gulf Pines Girl Scouts Council, Cypress District Boy Scouts, and the Fireman's Doll and Toy Fund.

Every day of the year United Way supported agencies are working in Hancock County. Thousands of folks are helped each year by the various agencies.

From our youth in scouting to numerous Senior Citizen Programs all ages of our community are aided and helped by the United Way.

We hope that when you are called on, you will help this very worthwhile drive.

Give the United Way...Thanks to you, it works for all of us.

Bits 'n pieces

The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club is humming with activity hosting the Lipton Regatta which started yesterday.

Two big races are scheduled today with the finals tomorrow to finish three days of activities.

Crews from 17 yacht clubs are participating and many visitors have been drawn to Bay St. Louis during the Labor Day weekend for the BWYC event.

We hope everyone has a good safe time and the winds are favorable.

Tiger fans are still cheering the victory over the Tomcats Friday night in Wiggins.

Margie Hitchcock was the only staff member picking the Tigers as winners over Stone County.

It was good for Smuffy Smith's 1981 squad to get off with a win. They were able to move the ball and score.

The Tiger squad has had some problems in recent years and we hope they are beginning a successful season.

The come from behind victory by St. Stanislaus over Hancock North Central was a very good game according to reports we have received.

The Rock-A-Chaws have been noted in recent years for squeezing out victories by field goals. It looks like the 1981 Rocks still have the weapon, even with Juan Betanzos graduating last year.

This is just a reminder about the big Fireworks Spectacular scheduled in Waveland tonight sponsored by the Waveland Civic Association.

Waveland beaches should be filled with spectators for the best fireworks display in the area. We hope you will bring the kids out and enjoy the fun.

This afternoon at the Waveland City Hall, the Waveland Civic Association will also begin their annual participation in the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon.

The volunteers on the telephones will be seeking pledges from businesses, organizations and individuals in the community. We wish Jimmy Lagasse and crew success in their campaign for 1981.

One of our subscribers reminded us this week of the lack of school zone signs on some streets.

He was right. There are some streets which have no caution signs warning motorists of the school ahead.

We hope the proper signs are replaced, as we know they have been up before, but as usual, someone with nothing else to do removed them.

The best we taxpayers have to pay for this type of vandalism is increased insurance rates.

Another subscriber has been on the increase in our country in the construction of mailboxes.

We have received reports of several streets where the about every mailbox had been removed in recent weeks.

We wish persons could be caught who do this. It would be a shame if the police could not do this.

CURVE MARKED—Reflectors were placed, top photo, on the long curve on the Kila-Waveland Road this week by Hancock County District Four crewmen. Sam Pernick, District Four supervisor, bottom photo, stands by large pine tree near the curve skinned by numerous vehicles. The tree is about 10 feet from the outside of the curve. Several other trees in the area also show scars left by various accidents. Shoulders and ditches of the short-cut road also show evidence numerous tire skids. (Staff photos by Ellis Cuevas)

The Bottom Line

Candid Answers To Your Questions About Advertising and Business Topics

By S. GALE DENLEY
Associate Professor of Journalism
University of Mississippi

My local ad salesman told me I can't put many items in my ad. I think he is just trying to make his work easier, but I guess you'll take his side. I just want my money's worth.

Dear Mr. Denley: You mixed your genders, names, and after a recent spanking for sexism, I found your query distracting.

To be specific, I know what you are saying, but something about it seems from getting the full, and true message.

And, to reiterate the point your salesperson was trying to make with you—a simple point can be missed if the message is presented in a confusing manner.

Uncertainty can come from having too much information and too many choices.

So, if you can't decide what to do, just ask your salesperson to help you decide. You'll be glad you asked.

One observation should be made—a crowded ad indicates a crowded store. If this is the image you want to create for your store, stick to your guns.

But, if you have made a conscious effort to widen sales and make your merchandise more visible, do the same with your ads.

While space in ads is like floor space in your store—it takes a certain amount of effort to do a good job of producing sales.

And, I know the exact facts and circumstances of your situation, I must deal in generalities.

Therefore, I recommend that you give yourself a deadline to go ahead and do it, or you'll never get it done.

So, if you can't decide what to do, just ask your salesperson to help you decide. You'll be glad you asked.

One observation should be made—a crowded ad indicates a crowded store. If this is the image you want to create for your store, stick to your guns.

But, if you have made a conscious effort to widen sales and make your merchandise more visible, do the same with your ads.

IN CONGRESS

By Cong. Trent Lott

CLOUDS BREWING OVER MERCHANT FLEET

The cover of a recent Washington publication pictured clouds moving in on the dome of the U.S. Capitol along with the words "storm center."

The national capital has become something of a storm center in recent weeks with congressional votes on budget cuts and a variety of other items.

But a storm of a different nature has moved in on one vital area of the U.S. economy, the maritime industry.

Foreign competition and seemingly indifference by the federal government has hampered the growth of the U.S. flag fleet.

What is the current status of the U.S. maritime industry? Consider the following:

—From a high of about 3,500 U.S. flag, ocean-going vessels in 1950, our fleet has declined to its present status of 578 active vessels;

—The decline translates into a ranking of seventh in total capacity of the U.S. fleet, down from our 1950 ranking of first;

—The number of seafaring jobs on U.S. ocean-going commercial vessels has dropped from as many as 64,000 in 1960 to just 19,333 in 1980;

—The U.S. merchant fleet now carries less than 5 percent of our total import-export trade and less than 1 percent of our dry bulk trade.

In almost every imaginable statistic viewed from almost every angle, it becomes clear that both the U.S. merchant vessel fleet and the commercial shipbuilding industry are in a depressed state.

Many of our trading partners, meanwhile, are doing relatively well, and one reason is that they carry a larger share of their own commerce.

Most of these countries foster close cooperation among governments, trading companies and merchant carriers.

Not so in the U.S. But help may be just over the horizon.

Congress now is considering legislation designed to provide economic incentives to participants in the U.S. flag fleet.

These incentives would take the form of tax write-offs, allowing faster depreciation for American-built vessels and encouraging new construction.

In addition, it would discourage the abuse of the provisions by imposing a severe penalty tax on any taxpayer that transfers a U.S. flag vessel which has used the new depreciation rules to a foreign registry.

U.S. commerce should move on U.S.-built ships when water transportation is called for, and, hopefully, the legislation would help to encourage that.

We must find a way to remove those storm clouds from the future of the U.S. shipping industry.

HEARING THE SCHOOL BELL

Thousands of Mississippi youngsters will be attending classes in the state's elementary and secondary schools.

But some 6,000 will not start the first grade and of those attending, some 15,000 will drop out of school. In high school for every 100 who graduate another 60 will not.

As this school year starts, the Mississippi Economic Council urges Mississippians to consider the state's educational system and the products it produces.

In 1980, only 5.4 percent of the state's first graders had any type of preschool training. In Arkansas, 74 percent had preschool training.

Other statistics are just as alarming. Thirty-five percent of the Mississippians who volunteer for military service are rejected. The national average is 9 percent. Mississippi has the highest rejection rate in the nation.

MEC urges Mississippians to consider the steps necessary to provide quality education for all of the state's school children, reforms in administration, effective evaluation of teachers, higher standards for teacher certification, a public kindergarten program, and perhaps an adjustment in tax burdens.

Because, as the philosopher once said, "Which is more expensive, ignorance or education?"

Ronald Carter scores Tigers third TD.

In a game which highlighted some fine running and breathtaking long yard passing gains, the Bay Tigers toppled the Stone County Tomcats Friday 21-18 at the Perkinston Jr. College Campus.

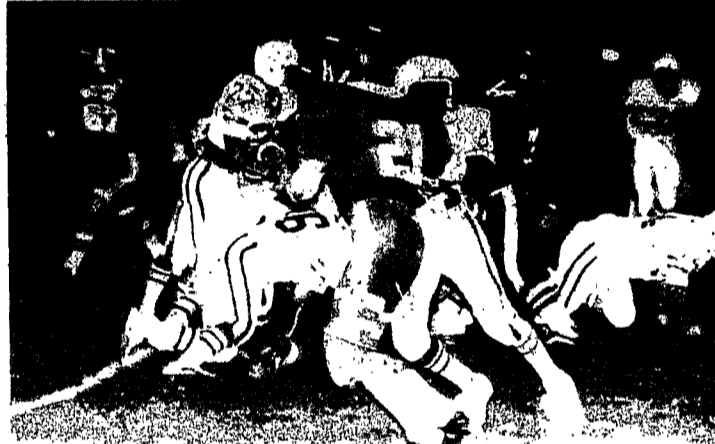

Throughout the first half the Tigers controlled most of the play. And at one point early in the third quarter it looked like a landslide with the Tigers on top 21-0.

But the Tomcats refused to quit and rallied to score three touchdowns, one in the third and two in the fourth quarter, to make the game a close one. Attempts to make the two point conversion after two of those touchdowns were thwarted by the Bay defense. A PAT by the Tomcats on the second touchdown also went wide, and the Tigers held on to that three point lead for the victory.

The first touchdown of the game came at 7:02 in the first quarter after Bay High stopped the Tomcats in their own territory and forced a punt.

Jimmy Sones, tackle for the Tigers, blocked the kick and the Tigers recovered on Stone's five yard line.

From there the Tigers made it look easy as Dennis Rhodes, on the first play, took a han-

KNOCKED OUT OF BOUNDS—Bay High's David Palmisano puts a hard hit on Stone County Tomcats' running back Mike Breland to knock Breland out of bounds on Bay High's two yard line. doff and charged through the right side of the Stone County defense into the endzone.

In the second quarter, Tiger fullback Van Fayard culminated a 75 yard drive with a three yard run to put the Tigers on top 13-0.

Fayard, who completed all three PAT's in the game, kicked the ball through the uprights after his two yard touchdown run. Bay High ended the half ahead 14-0.

In the third quarter, a fumble by Bay High several plays after the kick-off gave the ball to Stone on Bay High's 30 yard line.

But the Bay defense held tough and regained the ball on their own 25 yard line when the Tomcats went for a fourth and three yard situation and were stopped short.

On the very next play, the Tigers caught the Tomcats' defense and fans by surprise when quarterback David Palmisano pitched the ball back to running back Trellis Harvey who threw a 40 yard bomb to Ronald Carter.

Carter, who was well ahead of his defender, had to slow up for the catch. For an instant it looked like he might be brought down. But Carter picked up speed after the catch, cut across field, and left his defender two yards behind as he crossed the endzone for Bay High's third and final touchdown.

From then on Stone fought back, gaining six points in the third and 12 in the fourth.

Their first touchdown was almost a duplicate of the bomb by Harvey. On first play after Bay kicked off to the Stone following Carter's touchdown, quarterback Anthony Harris completed a 49 yard pass to Cliff Peters. That play set the Tomcats up for a score by Breland who carried three times before crashing over Bay High's right guard into the endzone.

In the fourth quarter another passing gain from Harris to Peters; this time 33 yards, brought the ball onto the two yard line of Bay High. Breland again took the ball in for the score.

The Tomcats again scored, this time with 3:41 remaining in the fourth quarter. The Tigers received the kick ran the clock out.

Bay Coach Snuffy Smith, noted, "It was a very hard hitting game. The players really made an outstanding effort."

The Tigers will be meeting Pass Christian Pirates next Friday. The game will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Pass.

Infant of Prague vows unite Ladner, Necaise

Cynthia Jean Necaise became the bride of Marvin Joseph Ladner August 22 in a 2 p.m. ceremony at Infant of Prague Catholic Church in White Cypress with Rev. Tom Stepanski officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Necaise, Jr. of Pass Christian. The groom's parents are Margaret Ladner and Murphy Ladner of Lizans.

Nuptial music was provided by Paula Necaise of Perkinson.

Given in Marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of chandilly lace and polyester organza over bride taffeta fashioned with Queen Anne neckline, fitted bodice embellished with seed pearls and lace appliques and empire waistline. Sheer lace bishop sleeves ended in pointed lace cuffs and her tiered lace skirt extended into a chapel length train.

Her veil of silk illusion was held in place by a lace embroidered caplet accented with seed pearls.

She carried a cascade of white roses, blue lilies and ivy interspersed with lace, ribbon and seed pearls.

Susan Necaise of Pass Christian attended her sister as maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Jane Lizans and Melanie Ladner of Lizans, sisters of the groom, and Donna Ladner of Lizans. Tiffany Necaise of Pass Christian, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Cain Ladner of Lizans, cousin of the groom, was ring bearer.

The attendants were identically attired in formal gowns of polyester organza over taffeta featuring ruffled neckline and back, flower trimmed bow and flared skirt with flounced hemline.

They carried arm bouquets of blue roses, white lilies with blue and white ribbon streamers.

Miranda Necaise of Pass Christian, niece of the bride, was miniature bride. Miniature groom was Ray Necaise, brother of the bride.

Marty Necaise of Lizans served his brother as best man.

Groomsmen were Stevie Necaise of Pass Christian, brother of the bride; Brad Ladner of Pass Christian, cousin of the bride; and Charlie Silkwood of Lizans.

The mother of the bride chose for the occasion a light blue gown of lustrous polyester knit, fastened with empire waist, pleated skirt and gathered neckline. An attached lace capelet completed the ensemble.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Kin Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall.

The bride's table was overlaid with a lace cloth and held a wedding cake flanked with silver candelsticks with blue tapers.

Assisting at the reception were Lynell Ladner, aunt of the bride, cake table; Martha Ladner, Tanya Ladner and Marion Ladner, all of Pass Christian, food table; and Suzanne Kilgrew of Long Beach, guest register.

The couple will reside in Lizans.

MUPPET STAR
MISS PIGGY

New Orleans museum to feature Muppets

Frogs and felines, foxes and fish, pigs and pooches, possums and porcupines, birds and beasts, beavers and bullfrogs—a trip to the zoo? A new Disney fantasy?

No, it is 'The Art of the Muppets,' a unique exhibition of the remarkable artistry behind the conceiving, building and performing of the Muppets of film and television fame.

Kermit the Frog, Miss Piggy, Big Bird and nearly 400 other Muppets will take up residence at the New Orleans Museum of Art from Sept. 18 through Oct. 25.

During the exhibition, the New Orleans Museum of Art will extend its general public hours, and will be open seven days and two nights a week with the museum opening Monday from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m., Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The exhibition traces the history of the Muppets, from their creation by Jim Henson more than 25 years ago for 'Sam and Friends,' a local television show in Washington, D.C., to their present worldwide exposure on television in 'The Muppet Show' and 'Sesame Street,' and in feature films in 'The Muppet Movie' and currently 'The Great Muppet Caper.'

Separate sections of the exhibition show the actual Muppets created for these productions, as well as for NBC's 'Saturday Night Live' and a Muppet Christmas Special. 'Emmet Otter's Jug-Band Christmas' (based on the award-winning book by Russell and Lillian Hoberg) which aired for two consecutive years over Henson's Office, and in 1980, on the ABC-TV network.

Also featured are a 100-square-foot workshop collage of actual materials used in the building of the Muppets.

The Muppets, in addition to being a group of characters, are also a group of people. The Muppet group will consist of performers Frank Oz, Jerry Nelson, Richard Hunt, Dave Goetz, Kathryn Mullen and Jim Henson in action, working actual Muppets against a photomural backdrop of an actual studio set.

Original dye transfer color photos, the basis for many of the popular Muppet posters, are also displayed.

The exhibition also features continuous video screening of scenes from the Emmy-winning 'Muppet Show,' as well as 'The Great Muppet Caper.' It also includes backstage footage showing the Muppet performers at work.

The exhibition is part of a three-year tour of major American Museums.

Muppet creator Jim Henson and his producing firm, Henson Associates, Inc., decided to tour the exhibition nationally after its unprecedented success in a showing at the San Diego Museum of Art in California during the winter of 1979-1980. It proved the most popular exhibition in that institution's history. Instead of the 66,000 expected, it attracted 150,000 people, both adults and children. The exceptional response prompted both an extension of the show's original booking and numerous inquiries from other museums about its future availability.

'The Art of the Muppets' was designed by Mari Kaestle and Leslie Asch, working with Michael Frith, vice president of Art and Design of Henson Associates, Inc. It will be mounted in each location by the combined staffs of Henson Associates, Inc., and the participating museum.

For further information about 'The Art of the Muppets,' telephone 504-483-3831.

Parenting classes offered by center

Three new Systematic Training for Effective Parenting classes are being offered by the Gulf Coast Mental Health Center in Gulfport.

A 10 a.m. class will meet each Thursday at the center beginning Sept. 24 with Mary Ellen McMillin as leader.

Ann Rivera will begin a class at 5:30 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 1, also at the center.

Rivera and McMillin are both mental health associates in Children and Youth Services at GCMHC, which is located on Old Pass Road across from Memorial Hospital.

McMillin is a mother of three children and a mother of two children.

Dr. Jo Ann McMillin is a mother of three children and a mother of two children.

Each class meets for nine weeks with sessions lasting about 1.5 hours.

'STEP' is described as a realistic, sensible approach to parent-child relationships. The goals of the program are to help parents to understand more about their children's behavior, to teach them how to communicate better with their children, to help them develop a positive approach to discipline and to help them build self-confidence in their children,' the spokesman explains.

Interested persons are to pre-register for the classes at GCMHC, telephone Jo Ellen Bell at 483-1152. To register for the class, call the Biloxi Community Education Office.

Writer notes points of interest in Bay

By JOE PILET

Have you noticed the newly painted flag pole and beautiful new flag at the City-County Public Library?

Did you know that the crab apple tree which was planted at the library's entrance circle bore fruit this year?

Doesn't the Main Street Methodist Church look lovely with its new coat of paint? That building is a wonderful example of Carpenter Gothic architecture.

The tall 'junios' planted along the fence row at the back of Cedar Rest Cemetery are attractive.

Take time to feast your eyes on the Rose of Montana covered fence at the corner of Beach Boulevard at Carroll Avenue.

There is a sample copy of 'Stamps and Stories' on the customer's service shelf to your left as you enter the Bay St. Louis Post Office.

Not only is this book a valuable encyclopedia of U.S. Stamps, it also contains brief and well-written stories touching on historical persons, places, and events.

A worthwhile reference book for every home and modestly priced at $2.50, it may be bought at the post office.

The 25-cent-per-inch sale of discarded books at the City-County Library has many treasures. Browse through the stacks on and under the table located at the far right of the library's main entrance. You may find a treasure!

Note the improvements made in the parking area between the Dan M. Russell Sr. Memorial Youth Court Building and The Sea Coast Echo Building.

Walk with care along the sidewalk block known as Ger Street. It's pretty choked with an overgrowth of rock-chairs, spur grass that can give your ankles an uncomfortable graze.

If you can avoid it—don't park in the city-maintained parking area between Maufrey's Hardware Store and The Fireplace Lounge.

This spot is an unauthorized dump for beer cans, paper cups, trash of every sort and the unmentionable stench of you-know-what. There's also broken glass in abundance there, so watch your dress.

Gets pretty crowded in that business section of the Bay and if that lot were attractive and clean citizens would really appreciate it.

'Pitch in' doesn't mean 'pitch near'—if your arm isn't good why not just 'place' in those receptacles located for your convenience for disposal of trash?

Thought Question: Would a comprehensive and ratified zoning map of Bay St. Louis serve a useful purpose? Would such a map clarify issues of commercial and residential areas?

DOWN HOME

By Darlene Underwood

Hancock County Extension
Home Economist

July and August have been rather lazy months around here, but September and October promise to be alive with activity. Mark your calendar as to the date, time and place of each program you might be interested in. This way the date will not slip upon you.

I like to mark mine with a big red pencil so I can't miss the note.

FURNITURE REFINISHING—I have planned a furniture refinishing program on Thursday, Sept. 10, 9:30 a.m. to noon, in the Agriculture Building Auditorium. During class we will view slides and see a film on the Formby method of refinishing fine furniture. After participating in this class you should have no trouble refinishing almost any piece of furniture in your household.

Pre-registration is not required. Please bring a pencil and paper to take notes.

FALL FASHION—Judy Stecker, South Mississippi Manager for a designer fabric company, will assist me in presenting a special interest program which will provide a comprehensive overview of the 1961 Fall Fashion Forecast, plus wardrobe planning on Thursday, Sept. 17, 4:30 p.m. at the Bay St. Louis Library on Highway 90. The program will include slides, photographs, garments, and fabric that are "in" for fall plus information that will help you get the most for your clothing dollar through wardrobe planning.

DRESS FOR LESS—Spending less money, doing less time and wasting less energy. Surely at least one of these ideas is needed at your house. We'll explore ways to do all three by discussing tips on how to organize your present wardrobe, plan purchases to avoid costly mistakes and build a workable wardrobe around clothes that really flatter your figure and your pocketbook.

Come spend an hour with us on Thursday, September 24, 1961, 10:30 a.m. at the KLM Library on Highway 90 and we'll show you how to look in your closet without saying "I don't have a thing to wear!"

PINE NEEDLE BASKETS—Mrs. Bea Shaw, Pascagoula Extension Homemakers Club Member, has consented to teach a class for us on making baskets from long-leaf pine needles. I've had several requests for this class and, until recently, have been unable to locate a teacher.

Pine needle baskets are beautiful yet simple to make with a minimum of supplies. The class will be taught on Monday, October 12, 9:30 a.m. until 12:00 noon, in the Agriculture Building Auditorium, Bay St. Louis. I am giving you six weeks of advanced warning since the pine needles used in the baskets must be cured at least that long in order to work well. Each participant is responsible for gathering and drying their own needles. Long leaf pine should be used. Other needed supplies will be available at cost to participants at the demonstration. Pre-registration is required.

1961 HANCOCK COUNTY FAIR—The County Fair will be October 25-31. I know most of you quilt can do art needlework to grow flowers or vegetables, so any not enter some of the "fruits of your labor" in this year's County Fair.

Last year, we are offering premiums to the first, second and third place overall fair winners. Winners in this case will be chosen by the total number blue, red and white ribbons a person wins. For example, the person with the most blue, red and white ribbons will win first place. We regret there can only be three winners, but the premiums are: First place, $25; Second place, $20; Third place, $15.

For the first time this year we are able to award a premium for the Most Outstanding piece of work in each Division. The award will be $15.00.

FAIRWORKERS NEEDED—We are needing workers to help check in exhibits, assist the judges and help guard exhibits during the fair. You may volunteer for as many hours as you wish. We will pay $1.00 per hour and will provide lunch and refreshments for whichever job you would like.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM—Our tri-county Christmas Program will be the first of November. Dates are not firm yet, as some of the Home Economics need to make sure facilities are available. Watch my next newsletter for times and locations of the Annual Christmas Crafts Programs. Things are already shaping up and this program promises to be one of the best ones yet.

Story Hour titles listed

Pre-schoolers are welcomed at the City County Library in Bay St. Louis each Thursday at 10:30 a.m.

This week King of the Cats and The Three Little Pigs retold and illustrated by Paul Galdone will be read first.

Arthur's Adventures in the Abandoned House by Frances Keston is to be shown in the science project next. The story will continue with a drawing based on the story. The story by Hardie

Waveland Players slate 'Guys and Dolls' auditions

The Waveland Players are conducting open auditions for "Guys and Dolls" at the Waveland Civic Center on and tryout the dates and tryout. Auditions are on three times for auditions are on three successive dates," says Tuesday and Friday at 7 p.m.

Musical Director Jean Her Assistant, Dottie Overall, adds that everyone is welcome and urged to audition on one or more of these dates. "Auditions are definitely open and there will be no prescreening," she says. The musical comedy is an old favorite—one that audiences love to see and hear," reports Meta Garalde, publicity chairman.

Producer Terry Simpson says play dates are tentatively scheduled for two successive weekends in the middle of November. "Guys and Dolls will run for five performances," he added.

CRIME HOME SECURITY—Three experts in crime prevention and home security are Jack Schwitzer's guests on "Access" at noon, Sunday, Sept. 10, on the Mississippi Educational Television Network.

Schwitzer's guests are Claude Gholson of Jackson, assistant commander, crime prevention division, Jackson Police Department; Allen Cowling of Jackson, home security advisor; and Duward Blanks, home security advisor.

They will discuss the critical need for citizen involvement at the neighborhood and community levels to work closely with local law enforcement officers to create more secure homes and thereby help reduce the incidence of home burglary.

For further information, telephone Ling at 467-7993. Schwitzer at 467-4118, Keen at 255-7828, Overall at 467-4882, or Simpson at 255-2524.

Pianist slated at Peppermill

Johnnie Bachemin, who has been on tour since Aug. 13 will soon return to his home in Diamondhead and will present his second dinner-show at the Peppermill Restaurant in Waveland.

He has appeared on national television with the late Ed Sullivan and the Ford television special. He has currently been engaged by the Sheraton of Flint, Mi., where he has been playing piano and singing for the General Motors Buick show.

He will return in mid-September to present a concert in Biloxi, and then will perform with his trio on Tuesday, Sept. 23, at the Peppermill.

Judy and Dennis Ralph, owners of the Peppermill will be traveling to Michigan to finalize plans and be guests of Bachemin at his closing night. Advanced tickets for the dinner-show will be on sale at the restaurant.

For further information telephone the Restaurant at 467-9130. The restaurant will be closed Sept. 2-15 for vacation.

First house under construction in Valpine Subdivision

Valpine Subdivision, Old Spanish Trail and Union Street, Bay St. Louis was announced as Bay St. Louis newest subdivision in the Sept. 3 issue of The Sea Coast Echo.

The new subdivision is offering 15 home sites and several multi-family sites.

On Friday, Sept. 4, Cornell Dorsey purchased the first homesite and signed a construction contract with Ray McIntyre, local builder. The contract calls for a three bedroom, brick veneer residence.

C.C. McDonald Jr., manager of Valpine reports that construction is to start immediately on the first home and that options are being signed for other lot purchases.

Lots are being handled by C.C. McDonald Jr., 306-C Highway 90, Bay St. Louis, Miss. Office phone 467-3705; at night 467-6493. (Adv.)

Fuel prices in Louisiana and Mississippi continue to decline, based on figures released in the American Automobile Associations Labor Day Fuel Gauge Report.

Motorists in Louisiana are paying an average price of $1.33 per gallon, a decrease of 3.3 cents since the last report two months ago. Gasoline in Mississippi cost an average of $1.43 per gallon, a two-month decrease of 1.6 cents.

TANNAHAUSER

Richard Wagner's monumental opera, "Tannhauser," will be rebroadcast in its entirety on "Great Performances" at 7 p.m.,

Fuel remains generally available throughout the two-state area and the rest of the United States, with no shortages being reported. Travelers over the Labor Day Weekend should have no problems finding gas along major U.S. travel routes or in cities, AAA reports.

Joe Puglia, public affairs director for AAA's Central Gulf Division, recently commented, "The decreases in Louisiana and Mississippi have been the trend since the beginning of the year. These price drops can still be attributed to a good fuel supply and a reduction in the use of the automobile."

Gasoline prices in the entire average full-service price is $1.43 a gallon, while the self-service price is $1.312, a difference of 12.5 cents a gallon," Puglia said.

"In Mississippi, the average full service price is $1.44 per gallon and self-service is $1.435, a difference of 5 cents," he added.

AAA reminds motorists while savings can be realized at the self-service pumps, proper maintenance through regular inspections of fluid levels, tire pressure, belts and hoses can also help save money and add to travel convenience and safety.

AAA lists the highest gasoline price in the nation as in Nevada, where the
